

I strongly support access to video messaging through video relay service. In the hearing world we do not think twice about receiving messages because, it is as simple as "listening". In providing equality for the variety levels of hearing impairment this should not even be a discussion, in my opinion. This service is not only providing individuals messages in their language but opens up a wide array of great opportunities for individuals that use this service.